1966 TOMOKAN

If we must learn by our mistakes and profit from our proficiencies, the TOMOKAN has as its purpose the recollection of the mistakes and proficiencies in a student's life at Rollins College. Here is all the meaning and meaninglessness of one year—and all years—of academic discipline and extracurricular chaos.

To the student surveying his recent past and to the graduate reviewing his former history, may the TOMOKAN serve as a reminder of all that was learned and all that was profitable.

MAN ARRIVES.

... Arms outstretched ... eyes open ... wide. Man arrives to meet the constant change and changing constancy of the college environment. He ascends (descends?) into the heights (depths?) of palm trees, Mediterranean architecture, and lawn sprinklers.

A search has begun, a search for—for The Great Question Mark. Man has arrived, and that is sufficient. He does not ponder absolutes or ultimates. Man is simply—difficultly, painstakingly—searching. Drive is sufficient, direction superfluous.

The arms are outstretched. The eyes, wide open. Within the span of four years, Man must search his isolated reality for resolution. It is a time of quest, a time for preoccupation with trivia and ignorance of the consequential. A time to Become.

But, yet, still, most important, Man has arrived.

THE QUEST BEGINS.

Man searches the boundless limitations of his physical environment. Needle-tipped palm fronds jut through the tangles of moss. Grass sifts lazily beneath the soft trod of bare feet. Man and nature commune.

The seasons are—not. Temperature dictates apparel, but not change. Short sleeves blur into sweaters and back into short sleeves. Knees are bared, then bundled. Ankles remain exposed, scoffing the elements. But nothing changes. The omnipresent sun strangely never meets the omnipresent rain. Everything is Same, only viewpoint is different. All is in the eyes.

No. All is through the eyes and in the total, the internal being of Man. A tactual, sensory . . . ESSENCE. Man experiences contact—touch—with the beginning of his quest. The eyes remain wide open, ready to accept commitment. But the cause is, as yet, unknown. Drive is there. Direction comes later. Perhaps.

But, yet, still, most important, the quest has begun.

THE QUEST CONTINUES.

Man discovers . . . man. With arms outstretched, Man rushes, hesitant, into the mass of men. A mass of individuals which slowly becomes simply Individuals. Man touches with his mind. Sight is sacrificed to communication, to the nebulous substance of emotion.

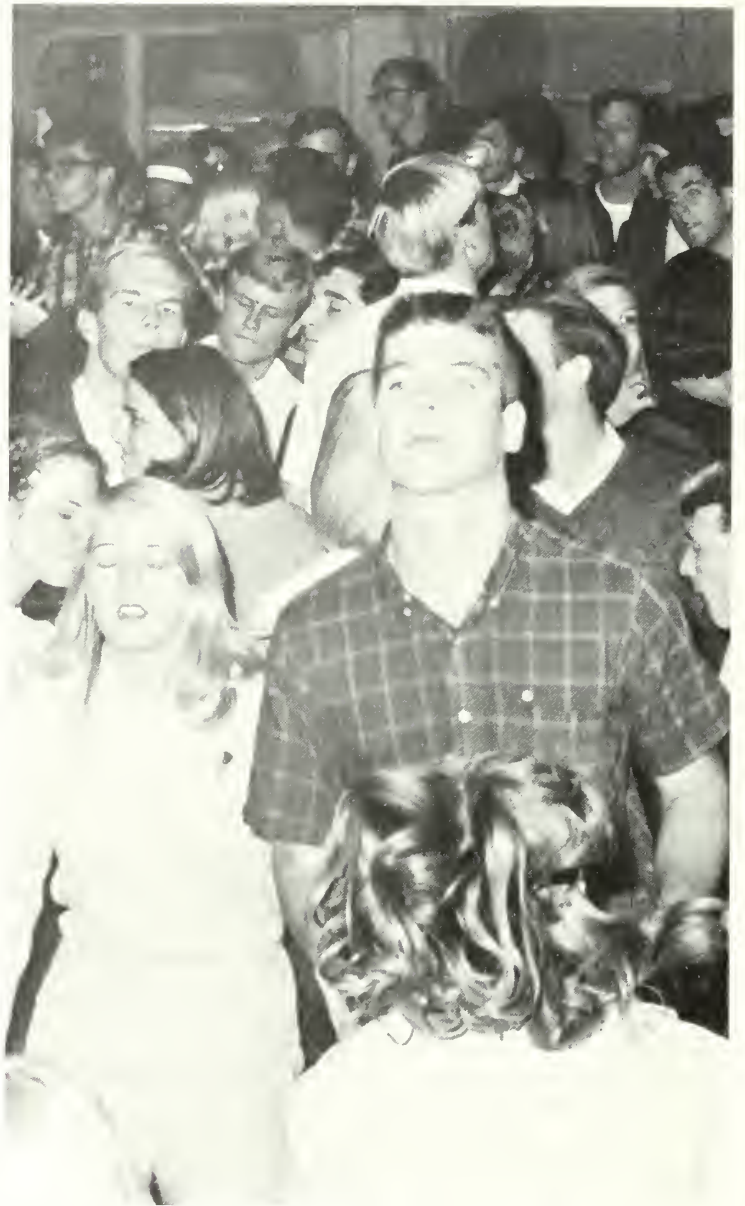

Man laughs. More important, Man smiles. Most important, Man feels. He touches and is touched. The common bond of humanity, of intellect, of interest, is secondary to an uncommon bond: Empathy. Man experiences the joy of sadness and the despair of meaning.

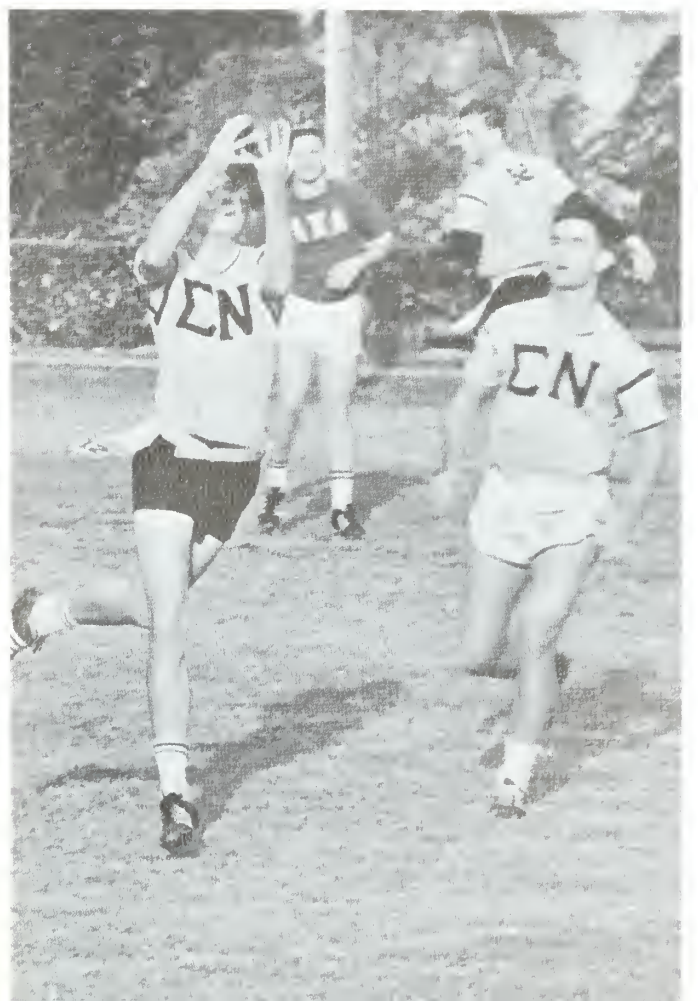

Communication flows over coffee cups . . . through darkness . . . despite silence . . . despite noise . . . over footlights and on all sides of round tables. From Man to Man.

And the quest is—not complete. Man is filled, yet unfulfilled. Lacking is direction. Drive is strong. Man pushes toward . . . toward . . .

Toward.

But, yet, still, most important, the quest is continued.

THE QUEST— COMPLETE.

With arms outstretched and eyes wide open, Man enfolds the completion of his search. Drive and direction blur into resolution. The Great Question Mark is answered. The goal, achieved.

Man achieves direction. By leaving the warm coldness and sterile comfort of what has been, for four years, his life, Man discovers role and relationship. Through the soft sting of tactual impressions, the illusory reality of sight perceptions, and the emotional commitment of communication, Man has traversed the full maze of the search. He has reached an end, yet strains for another beginning.

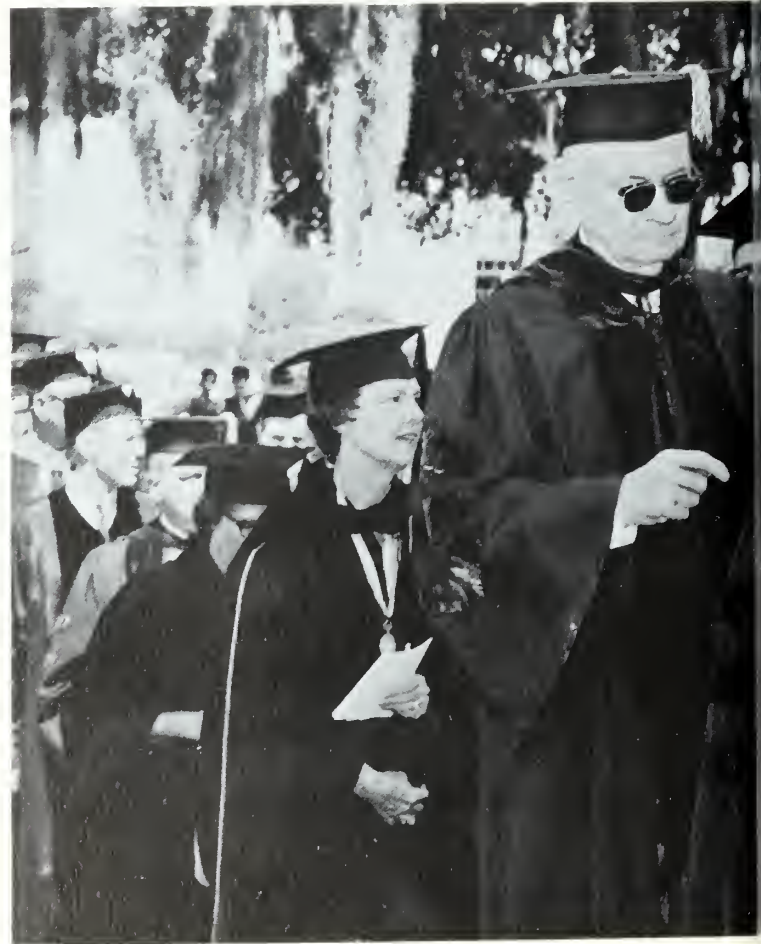

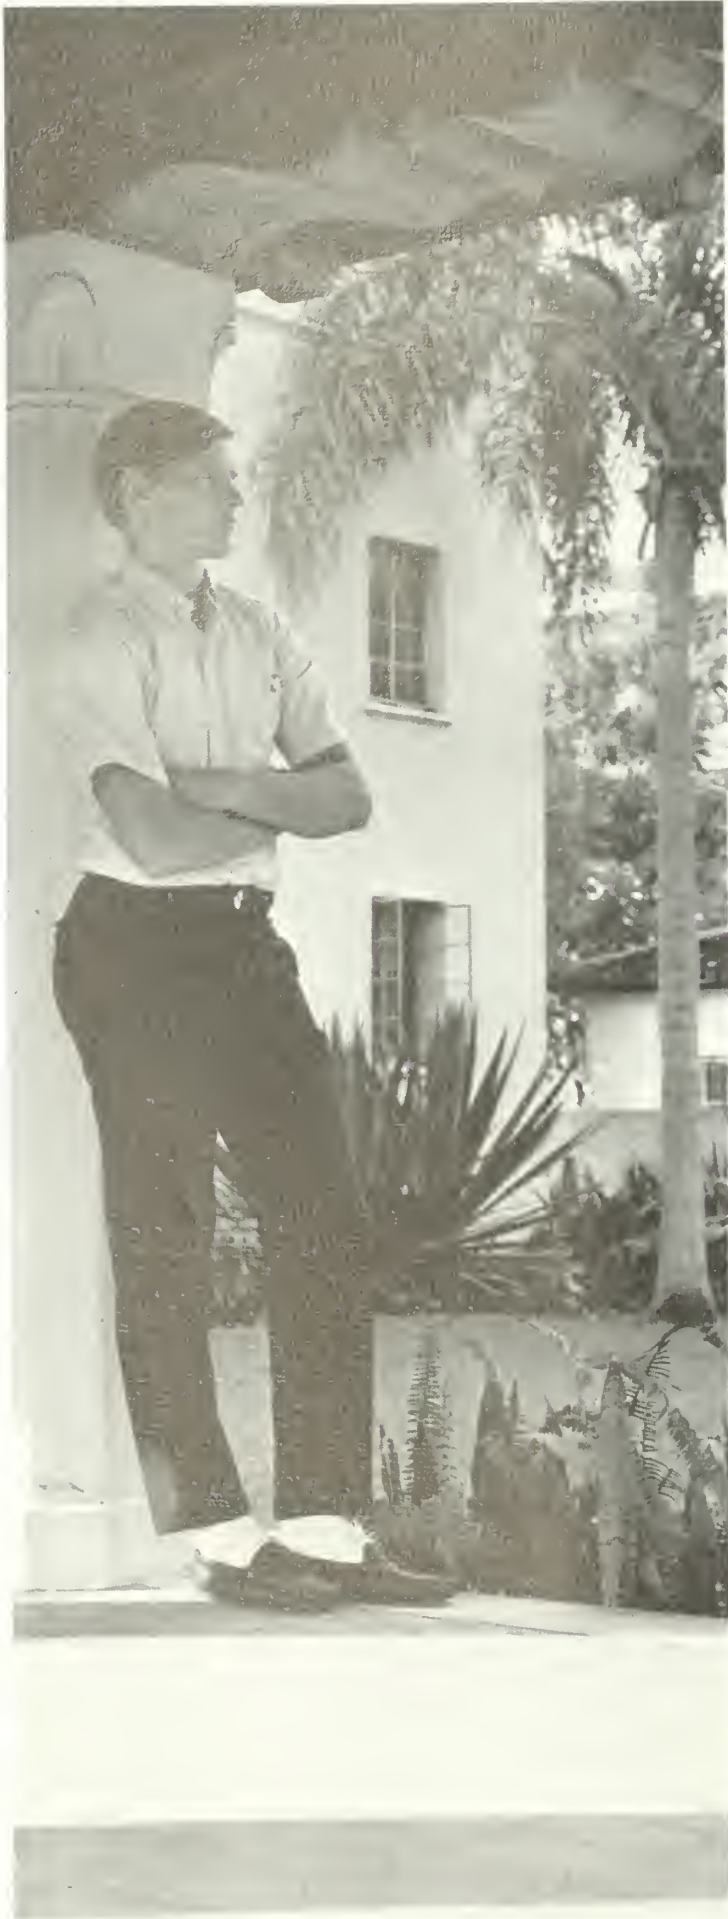

Despite, or perhaps because of, structure and limitations, Man transcends superfluous barriers. Man has learned much. He has learned enough to realize all he does not know. But he will learn.

The quest has been completed. Much lies ahead. With bags packed and the future in view, Man leaves. Another quest has become apparent. Man is prepared. Through leaving one quest, Man enters another. Man arrives.

Most important, Man has arrived.

DEDICATION

The 1966 TOMOKAN is dedicated to the ideal and the reality of Man. A person who, through resolution, perseverance, and initiative, has gained much from the past and looks boldly toward an uncertain future. A person who is essentially complete yet open to further essentials. A person who uses a diploma as the foundation for a lifetime of learning.

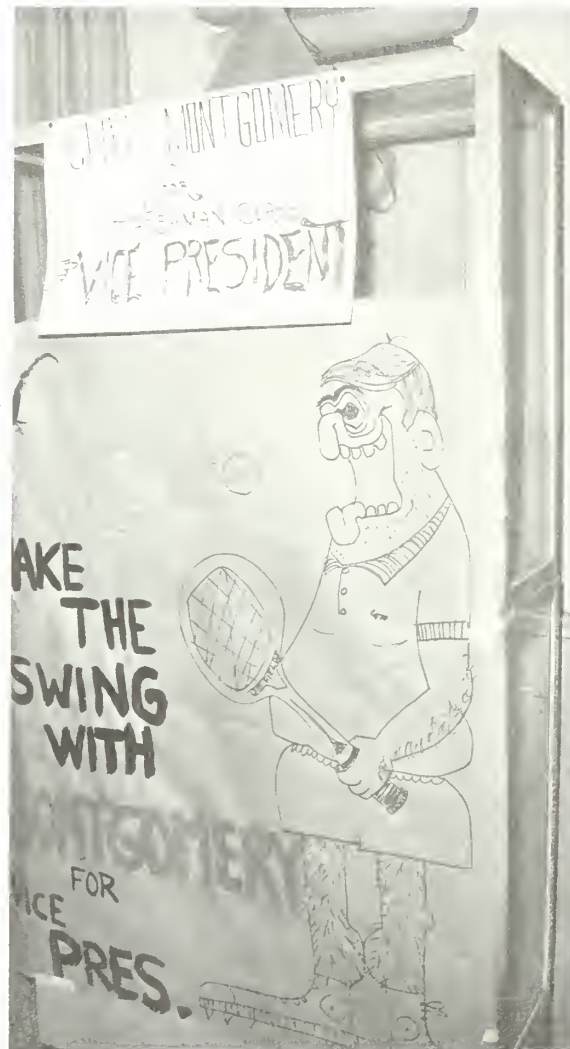

To the striving for optimistic ideals and the attainment of a worthwhile reality, we dedicate these pages.

Definition: "An aggregation of stereotyped yet unsterotypical people who serendipitally matriculate together"—in a word, students. One thousand sixty-seven of them. A group portrait for the Pepsi Generation. Within four years students are digested into the college environment and thrown back to the Real World. But, till then, Go, little Honda. The students are members of the Metrecal for Lunch Bunch. Say, "Pepsi, please." Pepsi, please.

Orientation Steering Committee: Elizabeth Bodenheimer, Susan Probasco, James Bomhard, Robert Gustafson, Allan Curtis, Patricia Blackburn.

Dean Jack Lindquist, Orientation Chairman.

Socks are lost, beanies are gained, and the Orientation Committee toils to get four hundred twenty-seven freshmen and transfer students oriented.

ROY E. CRUMMER SCHOOL

The Crummer School of Business was "open for business" even before construction was begun on the actual building. Finally ground was broken with sidewalk superintendents officiating. As traffic was rerouted and buildings were uprooted, The Roy E. Crummer School of Finance and Business Administration took roots in the earth and the curriculum of Rollins College—a new and important addition to the Rollins Family.

MARRIED STUDENTS

In search of off-campus housing, ended closing hours, and private bathrooms, a young person's fancy turns to thoughts of marriage. The transition from Boarding to Day and from Single to Married has scattered students to the four winds, but within a matriculative distance. Togetherness strides, hand in hand, onto the Rollins campus.

FOREIGN STUDENTS

Flying down to Rollins, the foreign students arrive with ethnic culture in hand and cultureless inquiry in mind. With selective adoption of Americanisms and discriminating adaptation of native customs, these students discover America, and Rollins, in a process of mutual exploration. Exploration leads to communication and assimilation—spanning the tiers of an ethnocentric Tower of Babel. People aren't so different, after all.

Definition: "A heterogeneous collection of varied individuals, various values, and varying temperaments." Administration and faculty. Structuring the educational process and processing the educational structure—these are the duties of administration and faculty. Administration and faculty provide decision and application. And the education goes round and round and it comes out here.

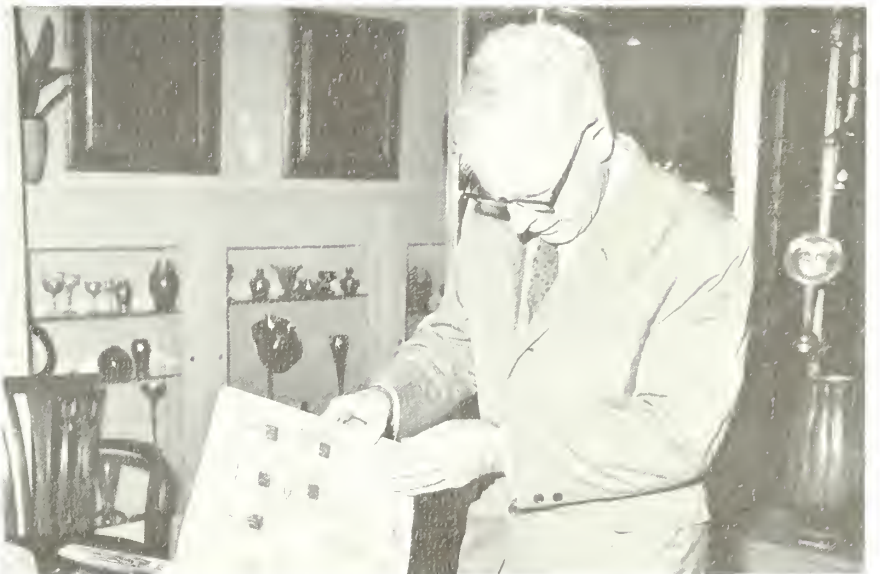

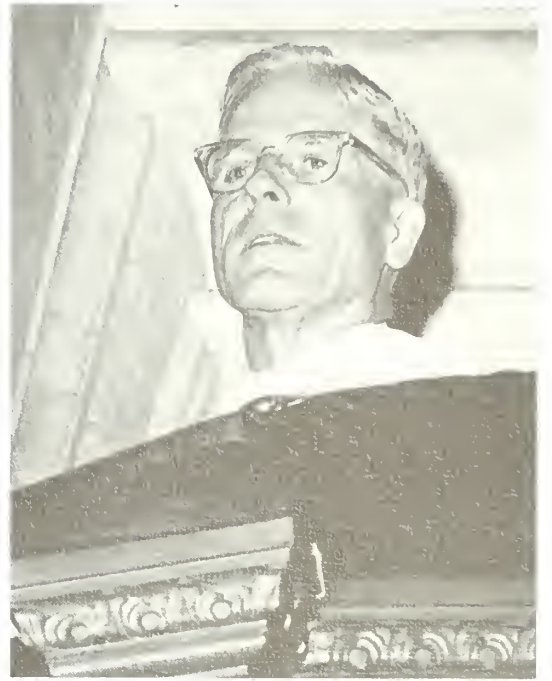

PRESIDENT HUGH FERGUSON McKEAN

"... and one man in his time plays many parts."

In his time, a college president must play the parts of financier, friend, and foreseer. Vision of the future, knowledge of the past, and perception of the present are essential to the fulfillment of these parts.

To the essentials, add fringe benefits—unassuming wit, a nimble mind, and constant charm. All parts, both essential and complementary, sum to a whole, to a basic man.

Hugh F. McKean is this whole, basic man.

IN MEMORIAM

Mortality is an innate attribute of man which demands that he achieve the most possible in the least possible time. Immortality is a man-made attribute which demands preparation, within the least possible time, for the most possible future. The men honored on these pages manifested their mortal lives in immortal endeavors. Rollins is thankful.

Definition. "Everybody and his mother (well, almost) Belongs" - to one of the Greeks. Which may or may not be in Greek letters, but are nonetheless called Greeks. Greeks give out instant image to members--as it should be, since members created that image in the first place. Lending social structure to an academic career, Greeks complement character and supplement scholarship.

Cathy Coward
Pennie Page
Heidi Turner

This was a big year for Beta Lambda . . . Ginny led us upward and onward, then she tried student teaching . . . Cathy trained pledges, headed some Inter-American Experiment. Hmm . . . Counselor Pennie, just when did Columbus discover the New World? . . . Judy's new "I'm busy" routine, decorating Christmas trees . . . Heidi became an old married . . . Martha had her recital . . . We stole the TKE bell . . . Mercer was pinned, our first for the year, and Nick came to stay . . . Candy's Mustang got too tame, she started papering doors . . . Syl is serious about not being serious, since she wasn't serious . . . Cutch came to love cleaning the chapter room . . . Linnie was best pledge, and Miss Felton had best pledge scholarship . . . Debs played, as usual, had a long list by her door . . . Fitzwater pulled off the feat of the year, stealing the Sig Ep cards : . . It was our year for serenades . . . Biller seems addicted to TKS's, platonically speaking of course . . . Tina got a ring from Skipper in September . . . Ev became Miss Snowflake and was snowed in return . . . We missed Val . . . Shapeless got bags under her eyes and long distance phone messages . . . Aside from chem and physics, Brodie had other problems—too many boys . . . Sue gave us that immortal quotation, "Dump . . ." . . . Pati-Fran, thanks to Raggedy Anne, made it through the year . . . A great pledge class . . . Everybody loved that 5:30 a.m. initiation . . . Shelley led the pledges and was pinned too . . . Gail, the best singer in the whole school . . . Ducky always got emotional at things like pledging, initiation . . . Barb and Cherrie swung all year, even without red polka dots in their room . . . Doudy became frankly Bob's . . . Linda Frequentated cloud nine . . . Jeannette tried biology and really used that dart board . . . We won some intramurals! Would you believe . . .

In the Chi O house,
Amidst flying darts, Hell Raising pledges, popping tops, a threatening Wret, and a disappearing scholarship trophy, one finds these worthless facts: Harpo drank with Gnaz and rinsed with Vince . . . Bird Ken-dled the Sparks but Nancy got off the Ferris wheel . . . Heidi's smile wasn't as bright and Gini only heard motorcycles and whistles . . . Whitey left the Union to be presented as Queen of the Hop and "Betsy Wetsy" turned into "Gypsy Rose Grantham" . . . Little Jack Horner stole J.J.'s corner . . . Linda got a pat on the back while moon-maid nearly lowered the Flagg . . . Betty remained EN sweetheart but Bev put down Erns and phoned Pedro . . . Sharon and Bonnie hit Gainesville . . . What magic tricks did Roger show you, Prichi? . . . Ann's Dering remarks under the influence and Julie's flat tires?! . . . Bruch hoisted the Jib sail . . . Barb lost her way to the house . . . Flash ended the Brawl with Gregg and Stanny wrapped it up in the name of the law . . . Margi just said good-bye . . . McCall donned a Tu-tu, grabbed a six-pack and said, "Repent, you sinners!"

First row: Marilyn Mueller, Stanie McNair, Bev Butler, Ann Ondrey, Linda Reichel. Definition: Busy, busy, busy activities. Frenetic planning, scribbled reminders, and chaotic convocation are all part of the organization of activities. With patience and prudence, activities strive for order out of chaos by kindling passive participants and maintaining kinetic leaders. Complementing academia, rather than competing with it, activities result from laborious sweat and "no sweat" convictions.

Editor Fred Suarez and Managing Editor Bill Renforth.

With a flurry of typewriter keys and a hearty "Hi-Yo Sandspur," Fred Suarez and his staff labor to put another edition to bed. A collection of news, views, and reviews, the paper results from concentrated direction of student talent. From front page news to "Grapevine" social criticism, the Rollins Sandspur never ceased to be a source of enlightenment and enragement. Barbed, polished, acute, consequential—all in eight tiny pages.

THEATRE

Successful theatre is the reality of illusion, a suspension of audience disbelief. For short-lived and long-remembered moments, the illusions of lights, curtains, and greasepaint are manifested into the reality of theatre.

Trouble right here in River City, wordless meetings with the public eye, recess in a school for scandal, haddock for breakfast, the endless wait for Godot, and the universality of Everyman are the realities in the illusionary world of the Annie Russell, the Fred Stone, and, even, the Knowles Memorial. The stage itself is merely a frame for the abstracted concretion it contains.

Truth, or illusion? Truth of illusion.

Definition: "Intercollegiate, intramural, and interpersonal enterprises which strengthen physically and activate mentally." Sports compensate for the night before at Harpers, aid diets, and offer free opportunities for sunshine. Play becomes work in sports because muscle becomes the student. Greeks vie for titles in Intramural Basketball, Soccer and Football.

Intramurals let everyone be "athlete for a day."

Definition: "A smile, perhaps a Jantzen, but certainly a smile." Beauty is the objectively subjective perception in the eye of the beholder and on the mind of everyone. Philosophically beauty is aesthetics; psychologically it is libido. Realistically beauty simply is. Let us be thankful.

The 1966 yearbook staff, in selecting a young woman to be Miss Tomokan, reviewed the criteria set forth in our dedication "to the striving for optimistic ideals and the attainment of a worthwhile reality." We searched for "a person who, through resolution, perseverance, and initiative, has gained much from the past and looks boldly toward an uncertain future." We required a girl who, further, possessed physical attractiveness worthy of the designation "Beauty." Miss Constance Kay Kirby fulfills this ideal and this reality of the many-faceted young woman.

Definition: "The activities and idiosyncrasies that make Rollins special." Which, for want of a better word, we might as well call essence. Essence consists of the perishing particulars and permanent peculiarities that create a sense of tradition and a continuity of inventiveness. Essence is the essentials—a reason for going to Rollins and a reason for coming back. Essence is Rollins.

XX ANNUAL SHAKESPEAREANA

With grace and delicacy befitting the China Anniversary of Shakespeareana, Mrs. Nina Oliver Dean reflected the sunshine and warmth of the day in welcoming an overflow group of friends to the twentieth annual program. A bouquet of songs, scenes, and sonnets was capped with floral bouquets and a tender tribute for the lady who has sustained the charm, vitality, and tradition of this, the foundation of Founders Week. Mrs. Dean and her Shakespeareana have become Rollins legends.

UNION ACTIVITIES

Kenneth Armstrong

Edwin Newman

The Union unites diverse elements of extracurricular relaxation and education. This year, under the leadership of president Doug Kerr, the Union functioned with increased efficiency and variety. Such programs as poetry readings, foreign and feature films, bridge tournaments, LeRoi Jones speaking on the condition of contemporary theatre, Edwin Newman reporting "live" for NBC News, all-college dances, and a series of debates brought to Rol-lins structured spontaneity of social, intellectual, and competitive natures. And a good time was had by all.

COUNTRY OF THE YEAR COMMITTEE Clockwise: Doug Kerr, Mr. Robert Costello, Dr. William Fletcher, Patsy Blackburn, Mr. Mark Young, Sue Raynor, Chuck Olsen, Mr. Robert Bonson.

COUNTRY OF THE YEAR

To the clatter of wooden shoes, Holland was selected Country of the Year. Replacing finger-in-dike myths and Dutch Boy Paints stereotypes were a year-long series of films, lectures, speeches, and informative graphics on the Netherlands of today. A windmill and photographic travelogue in the Union, along with dual flags in front of Carnegie Hall, were augmented with campus-wide displays and special Beanery cuisine. 1966 became the Year of the Tulip.

Definition: "Notation for mailing labels, envelopes, plane tickets, map routes, and Places To Avoid Like The Plague." A directory. Whether around the corner or second star to the right and straight on till morning, a directory lets your fingers do the walking. Conclusion

Or is it?

There is an implicit analogy between the ending of a yearbook and the ending of a school year—and a school career. Not at all strangely, a yearbook ends. Period. Finis. The end.

The end of a school year, or the even more ultimate of graduation, is arbitrary. Everyone yells good-byes, don't forget to write and/or come see me, and VAROOOOOOM millions of horsepower are activated and all is ended. Only not really.

Students go home for a summer of rest, or making money, or perpetuating that tan. Graduates are out in search of a job, or a friendly divorce from parents, or more of the same only different in graduate school. But somehow, Rollins never ceases to be an indelible stamp across the minds of everyone. Whether this stamp is a scar or a beauty mark depends upon the student. It is nonetheless There.

Letters from the Alumni House arrive with frightening frequency, all asking, with a whisper or a shout, for money. Grades are sent out, and room assignments, and other joyous, grievous, and profound trivia. Job resumes include references to Bachelor of Somethingor-other at Rollins College. All that is really concluded is the academic year, or the academic career.

Life somehow goes on, with Rollins a part of that life. The scar OR the beauty mark.

And so the 1965-66 edition of the TOMOKAN concludes. With love and kisses and wishes for beauty marks.

P. S.

There are rare occasions when saying 'Thank you' seems insufficient. This is one of those times.

But, since there are no other words --

To Sharon, for doing everything plus a little

To Bob, for sports

To Benjy, for the words

To Susan, for drudgery

To Debbie, for efficiency

And to Lyman, for all those pictures

-- For constancy and devotion and the yearbook you are now holding, I thank you.

Millie
